From the Pastor's Pen

This week former pastor Fr. Timothy Armbruster, C.P.P.S. gives us an update of his life after St. James. He is currently pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church in Centerville, IA.

Oh how great it is to get the chance to get away and how good it is to return home. The first of August, I had the opportunity to travel across the U.S. We were supposed to be touring Spain, but alas, COVID struck and our Spain trip got bumped to next summer. Since I had already made arrangements to be gone, I decided to keep those plans. A good friend of mine joined me and we loaded the car with camping gear and took off.

My friend Tiger and I drove across Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming, Montana and back, taking in the country side and the rich beauty of this land. We visited Pioneer Village in Minden, NE; the Black Hills, including Wind Cave and Jewel Cave Park, Mount Rushmore and Crazy Horse; Yellowstone National Park; Grand Teton; Devil's Tower and the Badlands; The Battle of Little Big Horn; and Homestead National Historical Park in Beatrice, NE. It was a bit of a whirlwind trip covering over 3,900 miles but it was well worth it. The weather was perfect and we enjoyed camping outdoors each night. I now have a stack of postcards, souvenirs, maps and over 2,000 pictures to sort through and put together into a scrapbook.

As we returned back home, I took advantage of Fr. Bill still being in Centerville and spent the weekend with Mom and Danielle. Sunday morning we headed to church and it was great "to be back home again." I had heard about the sprinkler fiasco and couldn't even imagine what kind of mess that left. I remembered the incident in the school over Christmas break when the classrooms flooded and the incident at the house when the washing machine dumped and the look on Fr. Mike's face, "Now what do I do???" Fr. Mike shared that he's ok dealing with spiritual and emotional crisis, but not so much when it comes to anything mechanical. Well, we each have our gifts.

I wish I could say everything in Iowa is perfect, but we have our share of challenges. The new boiler was installed, but still waiting on the new controls for heat and cooling. So for now, the A/C is either on or off – either freezing cold or roasting. Three of the five A/C units at the other church went out. Renovation of the

Someone is Watching and Wondering

Like most of you, my life has had its share of ups and downs. Unfortunately in my life as I navigated the challenges I became a person who tried to rely entirely on myself. My level of trust in other people was colored by adverse interactions, resulting in “never trusting anyone until they earned it.” Becoming a member of the St. James family, however, has helped me change that way of thinking. As I began to change, and my thinking altered a friend told me, “You are becoming a Pollyanna, like a marshmallow; too willing to believe in the truth and goodness of others, pushed and molded by their words, removed from reality.” I found those words an acknowledgement of my growth as a fellow human being and my openness to trust God.

In the third chapter of the book of Proverbs we read: “Trust in the Lord with all your heart, on your own intelligence rely not. . . he will make straight your path.” The hurts and disappointments in my life lead me to trust myself more than God. If I worked hard, increased my knowledge, and put up protective barriers pretending to be confident and self-sufficient, everything would work out and my life would be rich and full. I was so wrong! I felt empty and alone rather than fulfilled. My stress levels rose, my health declined, and relationships were strained. I don’t truly understand what happened, but somehow I began to listen to an inner voice: “I love you, you are not alone.” I believe that voice was the Holy Spirit leading me back to Christ Jesus, teaching me to let go and allow Jesus into not only my life, but more importantly into my heart. I did not have a radical Pauline experience, but I began to heal, physically and emotionally. With the realization that God loves me with all my faults and failures, I also came to realize that likewise God loves all His children and constantly challenges me to love as Jesus commanded. Finally, I was able to move outside myself, my ego, and selfish desires. Writing these words I realize how I continue to daily learn what it means to trust and to love. I believe that is the heart of my faith and conversion. This does not mean accepting all thoughts and actions of others, however, it does mean being able to love like Jesus in spite of the actions of other people. We challenge one another’s words, actions, and understandings, not one another’s humanity and creation as God’s beloved. I trust God and I believe all things are possible through God.

Your Sister in Christ, Sandy Gagnon rectory continues along with building a new garage. Roof repair from 2019 hail storm continues on Faith Formation building, rectory and church along with ceiling repair. Knock on wood, we’ve only had a small flood in the rectory basement from all the rain. So despite all that, I’m still happy and smiling right where I am! Never knew I needed a building degree along with my ministry.

On August 18th, I celebrated my 20th anniversary of ordination. It’s still hard to believe it has been that many years. As I told the people of St. Mary’s and St. Patrick’s, it is because of wonderful people as yourselves it has made my commitment all worth it. Once again, thank you to all of you, people of St. James, you also have left all those many handprints and footprints on my heart. I will forever be grateful.

As always, in my prayers,
Fr. Timothy

Introducing Our New Pastoral Council Members

Recently elected Pastoral Council members are Phil Baumert, Betsy Lewey, and Yvette Lopez. Included below are pictures of each along with "thumbnail" sketches about them.

Phil Baumert

My family joined St. James in the spring of 2003. I am married to Sheila who is a travel consultant, and we have been members of the parish choir since we joined St. James. Our son Nik is studying music performance in college, and has been a member of the children's choir, the adult choir and was a server for several years. This will be my second time serving on the Pastoral Council, having served from 2009-2017. I have also served in various posts with previous capital campaigns, I am a cantor, and have taught Confirmation formation classes for the past 6 years. Outside of St. James, I am the owner of a small tech company, I have been on various advisory committees for the Liberty Public School district and have volunteered for various school activities since Nik started school.

Betsy Lewey

I was born in Austin, TX and my family moved to Liberty in the 1960's. As a child, I went to St James school and church on Water street. My husband Doug and I have always lived in Liberty. We met in high school and he became a member of our parish when we were married at St. James in 1981. We have 4 children and 2 grandchildren with more on the way! I have worked as an RN at Children's Mercy and Liberty hospitals, and for the past 23 years, I have been with KU cardiology in our outpatient clinic. I have been a lector and have played in the handbell choir for many years and now also serve as a communion minister. Doug and I have been active in other ministries in the church throughout the years and look forward to continued involvement in the church.

Yvette Lopez

I have been married for over 20 years to my husband, Richie. We have three fantastic kids. Brittany, is married Cody and they have given us two grandkids, Anastasia and Dawson. Catalina, whose significant other is Ciaron and they are having our third grand daughter Zaya Mae. Our youngest is our son Antonio, who is in high school, plays football at LHS and ushers here at St. James. I was born and raised in Albuquerque, NM and saw all my grandparents faithfully serve our Catholic church for as long as I can remember. I began serving our church in 1998 when our oldest was in kindergarten and since then have been serving in various ways including religious education/ catechism from kindergarten to high schoolers, chaperoning Steubenville conferences for our teens, leading Baptismal classes with my husband, and assisting with other ministries as needed and am part of the Walking with Purpose ministry. I am able to do these things in part because I am a realtor which allows me the flexibility needed to do the things I love with our Catholic family. I look forward to being a liaison between Fr. Mike, Fr. Michael and our church community. I am ready for the task which God has in plan for me and my part of this faithful group I am a go getter and hope to utilize the gifts God has bestowed upon me in a way that helps our church family in a way which is pleasing to God. Lastly, I enjoy sporting events with my family whether it be cheering them on the sidelines or enjoying watching the Chiefs, Royals, Sporting KC, or any sport really! When I am not enjoying sports in one way or another I enjoy my date nights with my husband and our family gatherings of corn hole and other family games.

Members who are serving a second term include Dan Bacon, Libby Hernandez, Louis Angles, Patrick Schaub, and R.C. Arciga.
