From the Pastor's Pen

"Yet even when you saw that, you did not later change your minds and believe him." (Matthew 21: 32b)

It is nothing new nor unusual for me, being a missionary, to have to pack up and move to a new assignment every few years. I have learned to make adjustments to become comfortable with new environments, climate, and people; at least learn to grin and bear conditions and situations beyond my control.

Though I have now spent a large portion of my life in the Northwestern corner of Missouri, namely Kansas City – St. Joseph area, there is one thing that I still could not adjust to nor become comfortable with - the icy road conditions. I do, however, learn from local wisdom which advises, "If you don't like the weather... wait!"

Change is a natural phenomenon, an essential part of nature. Not so natural though, when it comes to a person's superstition, religious belief, and cultural/political attitude. We may have put a lot of efforts into change of self. The result still has a lot to be desired.

The Prophet Ezekiel observed such issues way back in the 6th century before Christ (see today's first reading). Saint Paul sought a solution to solve this difficulty in the 1st century after Christ. In the modern era, we of the 21st century continue to struggle with how to make our own "self" fit the new "clothing" (Galatians 3: 27) conferred on us at baptism. We wade still in the former self.

The concluding sentence of today's Gospel passage is the challenge that Jesus posed to the chief priests and elders of his time (Matthew 21: 32b). This challenge continues on among nations and peoples through the ages into our time, and perhaps to the end time. In facing our current conditions this challenge is critical not just to anyone but to us – particularly the Catholics. We call to mind the declaration before being anointed with Chrism Oil: "He now anoints you with Chrism of salvation, so that you may remain members of Christ, Priest, Prophet and King, unto eternal life."

Before penning the hymn exalting Christ we read in this Sunday's second reading, Saint Paul urged the Philippians to make changes in themselves in imitating Christ's letting go of divine form to take on the human likeness. This challenge seems to demand of us the willingness to be responsible in the way we live. We are challenged to be accountable for the way we regard other people through all changes, in the teaching and in imitation of Christ.

In prayer,

Fr. Lac.

MEDITATING MOMENTS

As many of you may know, I am a science nerd. In fact, at a very young age (1st grader) I ask Santa for a chemistry kit. My fascination with the workings of science has never dimmed, even after spending more than 30 years as a researcher, professor and teacher. When, therefore, I read or hear about new discoveries, I feel encouraged to continue personal studies into the continuously evolving gift of God's creation. For example, this image from the James Webb telescope titled "The Pillars of Creation" has provided a spectacular view of our universe, previously unimaginable to me. I am amazed, grateful, and filled with awe and wonder at being part of God's story and creation.

The annual ecumenical Season of Creation, Commemoration of Care for Creation, was celebrated this year from Sept through Oct 4 - The Feast of St. Francis of Assisi. The theme for 2026 is Living Water. Reflecting on this theme, I am reminded of lecturing new chemistry students with similar words: "Remove the skeleton and your body is basically a bag of water filled with chemicals reacting and enabling life's processes." Although I read in Genesis that I was created from dust, my human body is mainly water (greater than 60%) The brain and heart are over 70% water and the lungs greater than 80% water. Without water, the earth as I know it with all the diverse plant and animal life could not exist. I ask, what am I doing to protect and preserve this valuable resource?

I enjoy daily showers. I water my lawn/plants; do laundry with clean, running water; and use water to clean my car. I am also, however, confronted by the science that human activities, especially in wealthy countries such as the United States are fueling global warming resulting in a world where both destructive flooding and drought are destroying communities. In his 2015 encyclical Laudato Si, Pope Francis wrote how water is of central importance to addressing my responsibility of becoming a better member of God's community: "Fresh drinking water is an issue of primary importance, since it is indispensable for human life and for supporting terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems."

Sources of fresh water are necessary for health care, agriculture and industry." I ask myself, "Are my actions in solidarity with these poor without the luxury of clean water, or am I selfishly stealing from them?"

Your sister in Christ, Sandy Landuyt Gagnon

SAVE THE DATE!

FEAST OF THE MOST HOLY ROSARY CELEBRATION

WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 7
AT 6:30PM

Plan to join other parishioners at a celebration of the: FEAST OF THE MOST HOLY ROSARY

During this celebration on October 7, all parishioners are invited to join in prayer as ministry leaders circle our worship area to lead in the rosary.

The celebration of this day invites all to meditate upon the mysteries of Christ, following the example of the Blessed Virgin Mary who was so singularly associated with the incarnation, passion and glorious resurrection of the Son of God.

The importance of the rosary as a way of prayer has been a constant message in the addresses and writings of all of our recent popes. In the words of Pope Benedict XVI, "the rosary within itself contains the healing power of the Most Holy Name of Jesus invoked in faith and love at the center of each Hail Mary."
