From the Pastor's Pen

This Thursday, September 1, we are invited to observe the "World Day of Prayer for the Care of Creation." I suspect that few people will know about, care about, or observe this special day. Yet, people of our world family need only open their eyes to see what we are facing with the degradation of our planet: the earth, the air, and the water. If we have enough water, we don't think about the scarcity of water, the pollution, the drought in many parts of our world family. If we have a good quality of air to breathe, we don't think about places of extreme smog and air pollution. If we see fields of crops around us with a bountiful harvest, we don't think about food scarcity and drought in parts of our world family. Yet, as we believe from the teachings of our Christian faith, we are all brothers and sisters, we are a human family, we all have a stake in the well-being of planet earth.

In May of 2015, Pope Francis issued a powerful encyclical letter called "Laudato Si," in English meaning "Praise Be to You," written in the spirit of Francis of Assisi's "Canticle of the Creatures." In his poem, Francis of Assisi lifted up all creation in praise of God, celebrating the goodness of the earth and every created thing. Pope Francis echoes this praise. The subtitle of his encyclical is "Care for our Common Home." In six chapters our Holy Father points out current problems related to the environment, causes of this ecological crisis, and suggestions for responding to this crisis, an approach in action. He asks that all Catholics, and in fact all people of good will, to recognize the problems and to take steps to address the crisis. This includes a drastic reduction of carbon emissions and other greenhouse gases, development of renewable energy sources, and transition to energy-efficient methods.

Some people scoff at the idea of climate change and believe such changes have come in cycles in the history of the earth. I think they are blind to reality. Some environmentalists believe that it is already too late. Still, I am inviting all parishioners to think carefully about your own practices and join in efforts to save the earth and examining your own use of the earth, the air, and the water. Join with your prayer this Thursday, "World Day of Prayer for Creation."

My prayers are also with all of you each day.

Fr. Michael

Someone is Watching and Wondering

Last weekend St. James held a Ministry Fair in which everyone was invited to explore ministry groups currently active in our parish. For the first time I introduced the new acronym for formation of adults, exploring our Catholic faith tradition (specifically anyone desiring to receive the sacraments of initiation in the Roman Catholic Church). The Order of Christian Initiation of Adults (OCIA) is a journey of conversion for catechumens (the unbaptized), candidates (those baptized in another faith tradition), accompanied by all practicing Catholics. As such this journey is a call to conversion (on-going faith formation and growth) of the entire faith family. If all members of our parish fully embraces and walks this journey of discovery and growth in faith with those seeking the sacraments of initiation, our community becomes more focused on Jesus, centering our ordinary daily lives around his teachings, mission, and call to love and serve God and one another.

Initiation is about identity; it defines who we are and what we hold dear. Initiation is a journey that requires redefining our life. This may be risky and challenging. Redefining who we are means shifting the focus of our lives from what we think and desire to what God is calling us to become. A true journey of conversion requires a reexamination of social norms and values, family experiences and traditions, spheres of influence, groups in which we participate, our use of media, even investments, professional activities, and how we spend leisure time. There are many difficult questions to consider: "Do I objectify an individual or group of people; Am I aware of or do I participate in social systems which perpetuate divisiveness; How do I share God's grace; and Where are my energy, my talents focused?" These are questions not just for catechumens and candidates on the journey toward initiation, rather these are questions each of us should and must ask as we continue our journey of faith, a continuous Mystagogy, filled with challenging experiences of renewal and conversion.

Welcoming neophytes is a public, liturgical journey not some private affair. The Order of Christian Initiation of Adults turns the church outward, not inward, inviting the baptized faithful to embrace the teachings of the Second Vatican Council; "We are the church." We are called to become what we receive; we are ingraced, called to love and serve indiscriminately. We are called to be witnesses of God's love, God's mission, God's service. We are called to give freely without expectation of reward.

Yes, Someone is Watching and Wondering: watching the baptized faithful and wondering, what is being a Catholic all about; what does it mean, how will my life change? Enjoy the journey.

Your Sister in Christ Jesus, Sandy Gagnon

“Amazing benefits of singing”

*Anyone who sings can tell you how good it makes them feel.
But, do you know why?*

Singing tones up your facial muscles, your diaphragm, and your intercostal muscles.

*The proper technique of singing from the diaphragm can strengthen your abdomen and back muscles. You also exercise your facial muscles in unique ways when you sing, which can make your face look more energetic and lively. Your intercostal muscles—the groups of muscles running between the ribs that help form and move the chest wall—will receive quite the workout as well as you sing.

Anyone who sings can tell you how good it makes them feel. But, do you know why?

Singing increases empathy and understanding between cultures.

Want to become acquainted with fellow parishioners while enjoying a great dinner and lively conversation? Then join 3 other couples or pairs of individuals for four (or more) dinners, lunch or even brunch over an eight-month period beginning late Fall.

Each couple or pair of singles host a meal in their home preparing the main course. Other members provide the appetizer, soup/salad and dessert for the meal to reduce work and expense. Many different interests are represented in the group as well as involvement in parish ministries and groups. Each year that you participate you are paired with 3 different couples so your circle of acquaintances in the parish grows.

We will be organizing dinner groups for late Fall 2022 through Summer 2023 in the next month, then having our kickoff dinner in October for all members. If you have an interest in joining us or would like further information, please call Sandy Turner at 816-510-9264.

Relay For Life Thank You

Team "inspiring HOPE" would like to thank the Knights of Columbus and the St. James community for the tremendous support of our recent Relay for Life event. The funds raised support the American Cancer Society in the following ways:

- Groundbreaking research and life-saving treatments

- 24/7 helpline
- Hope House lodging and travel expenses
- Preventive screening in under served communities

Your generous support helped the team raise $22,500. "inspiring HOPE" was the top fundraising team at this year's event. Congratulations on a job well done!

A special thank you to Kevin Casel, Grand Knight, who led the Knights of Columbus to support this cause through fundraising, luminarias, and physical labor at the event.

We are grateful for the support this year and look forward to future events.
